TRIDENT

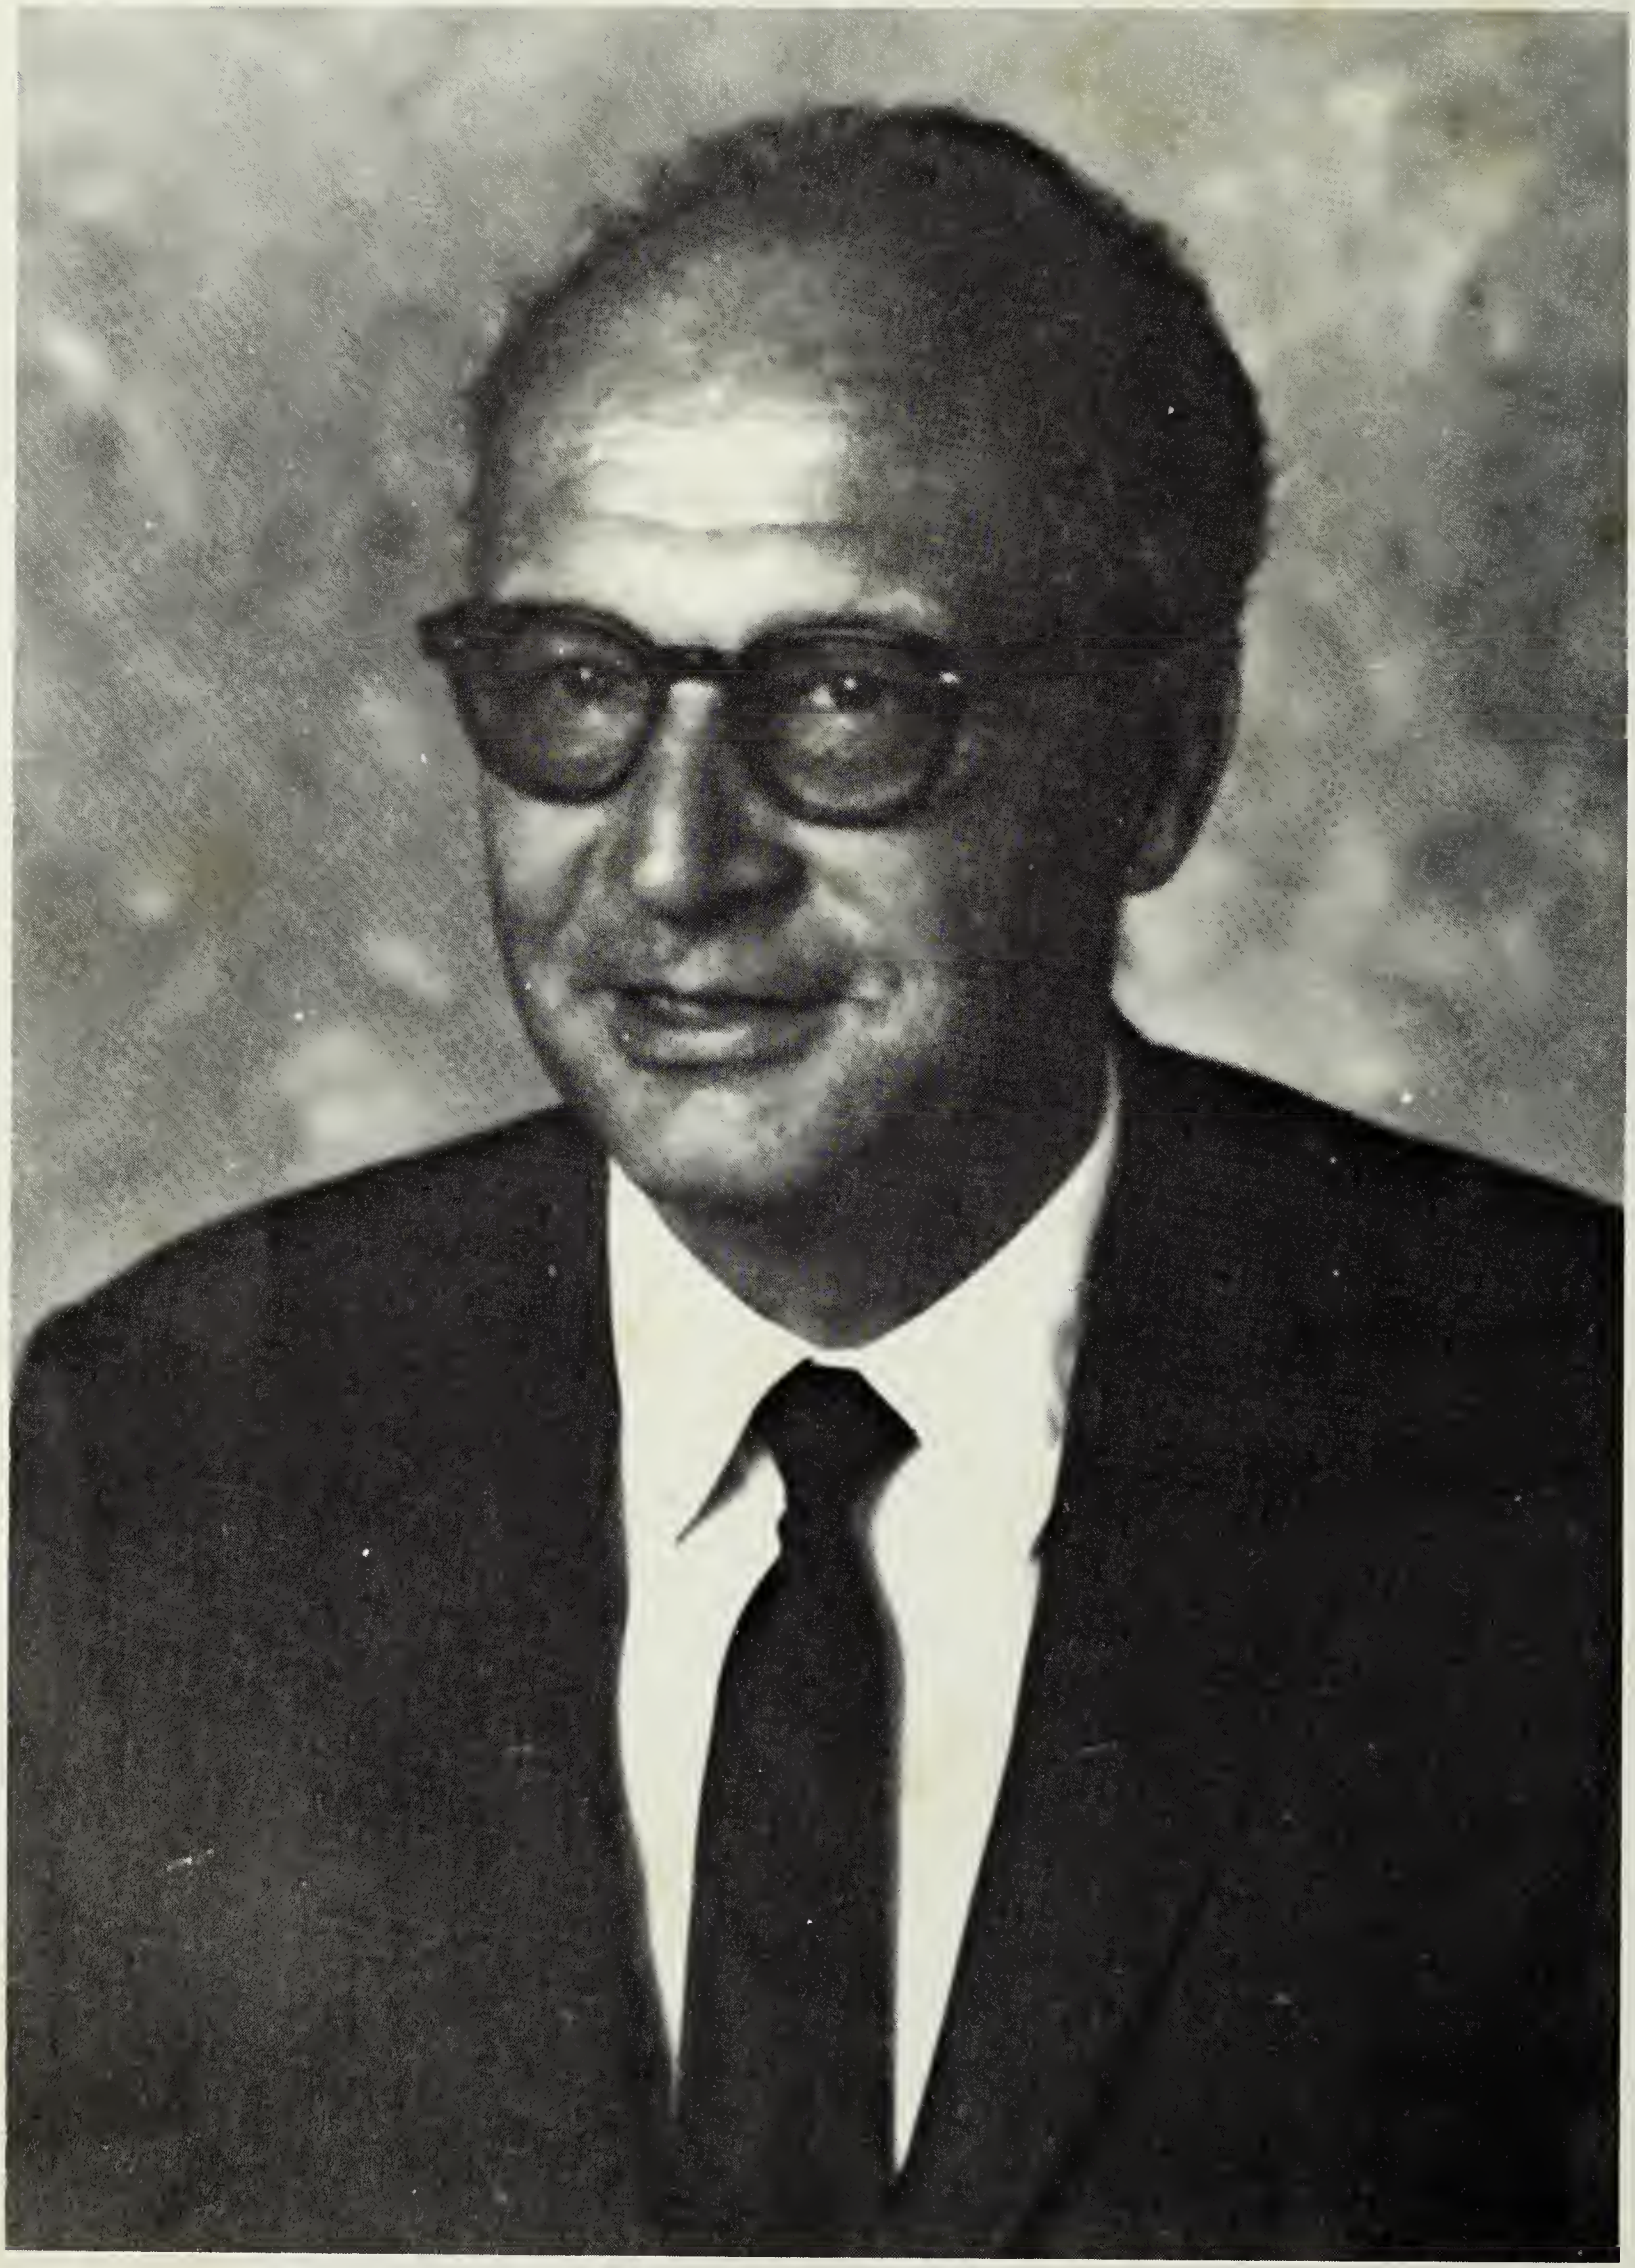
1971

Published by The Annual Staff
Onancock High School
Onancock, Virginia



You have now come to the joyful moment of graduation. During these years you have made many friends and many associations. These you will cherish among your fondest memories for all of your life.

Now that you are about to leave your school, friends and teachers, it is my wish that you will seek that which is noble in life. May you go ever forward with good courage and good cheer.

You take with you my best wishes for a good life.

Earl G. Hoppes

Mr. John H. Parsons
Assistant Principal

To the Leader in his lofty tower, we consider it an honor, a privilege, and a pleasure, to have been guided in our future destiny by such a one who is so capable in his manner of direction. Such a manner constitutes latitude for freedom of expression, latitude for creative thinking and writing, and latitude for creative doing. To those who have shown creativeness, the opportunity has, is, and shall be provided by our principal, Earl G. Hoppes.

John H. Parsons

Our assistant has been very dedicated to the job that he is fulfilling, thus, he is known to us, the senior class, as the "Travel Agent".

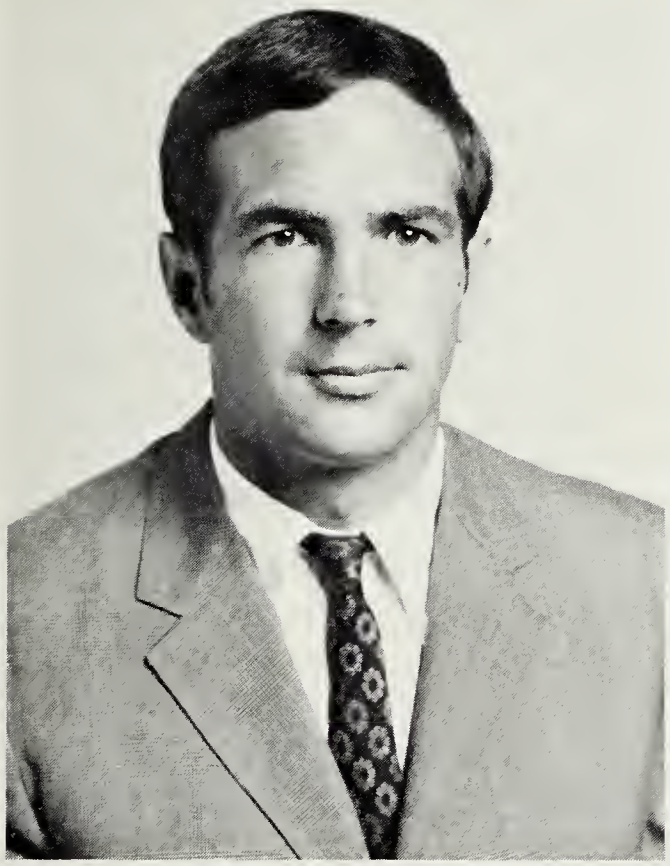
The Senior Class

My wish for all of you is that you will have a peaceful and happy life as well as a prosperous one.

Lola M. Lewis

Mrs. Lewis is a very dedicated secretary as she carries out the many secretarial duties of the school. May she always remember the class of '71.

Lola M. Lewis
Secretary



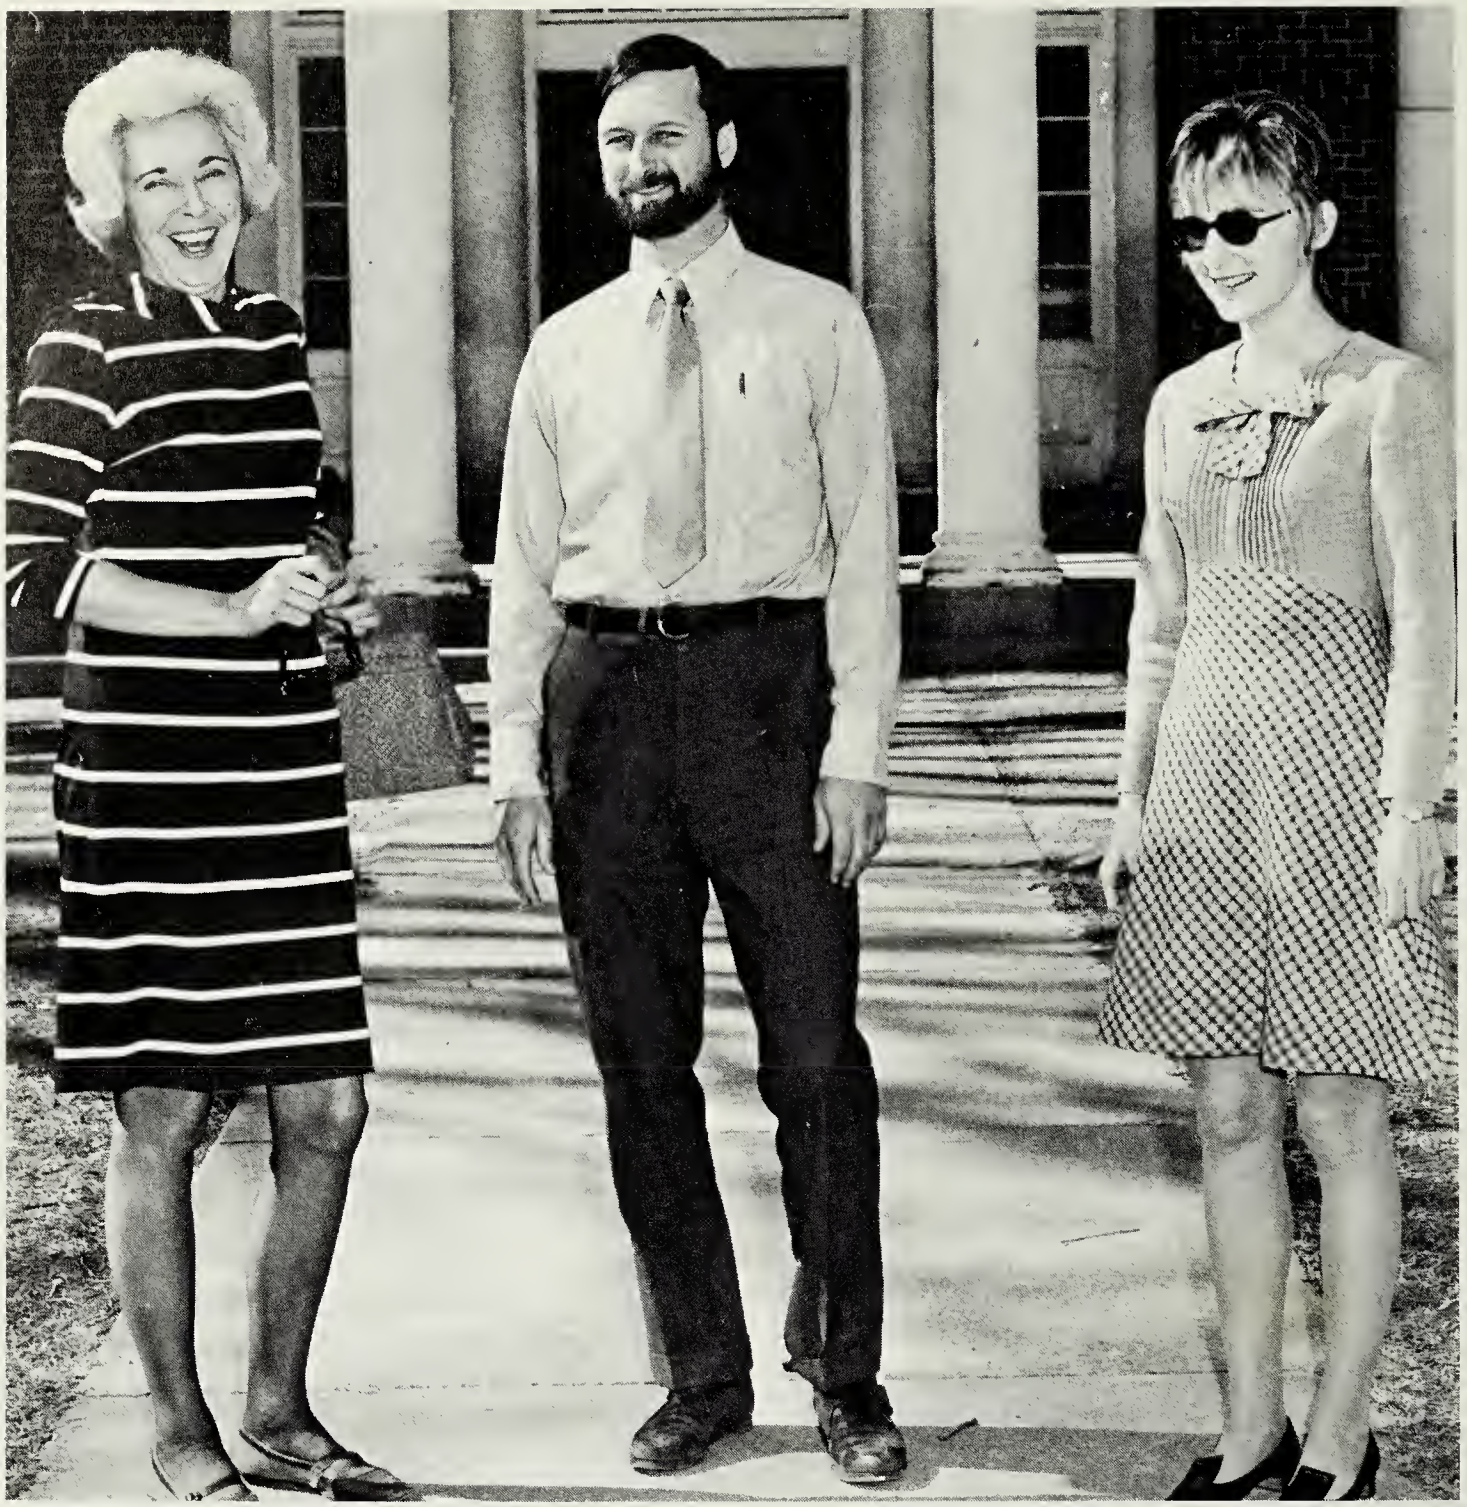
Mr. Robert Taylor
Assistant Principal

Mr. Taylor, our Assistant Principal, will always be remembered by the senior class. We shall remember him for the many days when he strived to set us on the right path. Forgetting him not!!

The Senior Class

The members of the Onancock High School are very grateful to have Mrs. Brim and Mrs. Curtis as our aides. Also we are thankful to Mrs. Taylor, our drivers education teacher, and Mrs. Harris, our reading teacher. These persons have contributed a great deal to the making of our solid school foundation.

The Entire School



During the past four years, we have come to love and respect three outstanding individuals who have been close to us – our homeroom teachers. These individuals worked patiently with us in all activities, shared our hopes, sorrows, and joys; and now, as we leave O.H.S., they will share our memories. As the years pass and faces fade with time, they will remain in our minds as three entirely different individuals who reached us as both students and friends.

To you, – Mr. John Barnes, Mrs. Yvonne Richardson, and Miss Billie Lou Barnes, – we proudly dedicate this 1971 publication of the Onancock Trident.

CLASS PROPHECY

Dear Mr. Hoppes:

Yesterday I was shopping in New York City when I happened to run into Danny Shrieves. We started talking about our high school days and decided to look up all our classmates. Although it was quite a job, as our friends are scattered all over the world, we found that:

Today's biggest Broadway hit is a version of "Cinderella" starring Pennie Adams. Others in the cast are Joyce Hart, Denise Nelson, and Susan Parker, the three ugly step-sisters; Tony Edwards, the handsome prince; and Arlene Smith, the fairy Godmother.

Romona Custis, Joyce Bibbins, and Patricia Jefferson went on to pursue a higher education after graduation – they were the first females accepted by West Point.

Jimmy Belote is now a chaplain in the armed forces.

Barney Russell has bought out the Anheiserbusch Brewery and hired Debbie Daley as official taster.

Vic Long got on the ball after graduating from ODU and is presently depositing his second million.

Hollie Scott is in Europe waiting for the ocean to freeze so he can ice-skate back to the Eastern Shore.

Linwood Davis and Scotty Scott are successful bachelors trying to outdo each other with a chain of Playboy Clubs. Their bunnies are Sylvia Blake and Peggy Martin.

Norman Downing was last seen cutting grass on the White House lawn on his riding lawn mower.

Donald Matthews is the owner of a large successful garage on Bayside.

Mallory Davis, a famed pharmacist, has just discovered a miracle drug to develop height in the male.

Craig Savage, a famous lingerie designer, has just marketed his latest design – a hot pink, lace, transparent sleeping set for men.

Billy Ewell, a leading T.V. producer, is in the midst of producing "Separate Ways," a soap opera starring Ann Nicholson and Zelma Mason.

The last we heard of Emory Hurst, he was lost in Lurray Caverns, because he dropped his glasses and has never found his way out.

Sheila Finney and Robert Windsor are presently battling for the championship on Debbie Lawson's panel show "Keep Talking."

Jerome Taylor, our country's leading defense lawyer, is defending Jane Bowling and Darlene Walker in the tragic case of the assasination of our late president, Kevin Harmon, in a Woman's Lib operation.

B. W. James is currently doing commercials as the new "Man From Glad."

Michael Matthews has been appointed pollution control agent of Onancock.

Sammy Morris, with the help of his chief mechanic Terry Moore, has recently burned the tracks at Indianapolis and captured the trophy.

Pat Wilson was last seen flying over the Atlantic in his flying duck blind.

Elizabeth Hudson, the owner of a beauty salon in Los Angeles, is planning to move back to Virginia to escape the smog.

Rogers Harrison and Martha Pruitt are still working side by side at Farmex.

Eloise Walker, now a Norfolk State faculty member, has decided to get some revenge for her tormenting years in school.

Donna Fitchett has become the wife of a chaplain.

Vivian Thompson is now hosting her own panel show, called "Let's Gripe."

Libby Williams was last week's guest.

Deborah Chandler has taken over Mrs. Senn's job at O.H.S.

Gail Davis, Peggy Harrison, and Beverly Bagwell are secretaries for Morris Poulson who has taken over Green Giant Industries.

James Williams has been made President of the Charlie Brown Fan Club.

Claude Wise is now very wealthy. He owns half of Las Vegas.

Ernest Drummond is considering selling his Eastern Shore Playboy Club.

John Kluis was elected Mayor of Never-Never Land last week.

Ronnie Custis is still trying to make up his mind between sweethearts.

Phyllis Taylor is leading head shrinker in Delmarva's Psychiatric Ward.

Martha Johnson, who gained experience from her high school job at Fork's Grill, has opened a restaurant on Tangier called "Marty's Menu."

Gloria Ames is singing at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Catherine Tyler is now a famous model in New York City.

Joe Lewis, who was always doing something he shouldn't, was recently seen trying to straighten the Leaning Tower of Pisa.

Cora Dix has overthrown Cuba's government to become "1st Woman Dictator."

Diane L. Doughty and Becky L. Russell are still happily married.

Willie Strand and Ralph Fletcher have scored 2,000 points each in their past two years of NCAA action and have accepted $2,000,000 for their first year with the Harlem Globe Trotters.

Gaye Savage is now very happy teaching basketball to the Pygmies.

We hear George West is still making annual visits to O.H.S. for the sole purpose of aggravating Miss Barnes.

Keith Thomas has a chain of Tip-Top Food Markets across the country.

Shelia Northan, the highest paid secretary in the U.S., is the favorite employee of Howard Hughes, Jr.

Bruce Kellam has been appointed revenue agent of Accomack County. Marie Bailey is his Secretary.

After years of hard work, Gwendolyn Ames has become a famous opera star.

Teresa Boone's serious speaking tone won her a position on the Virginia General Assembly last year.

We learned that Blanche Bunting has become a successful seamstress and owns her own fashion and fabric shop.

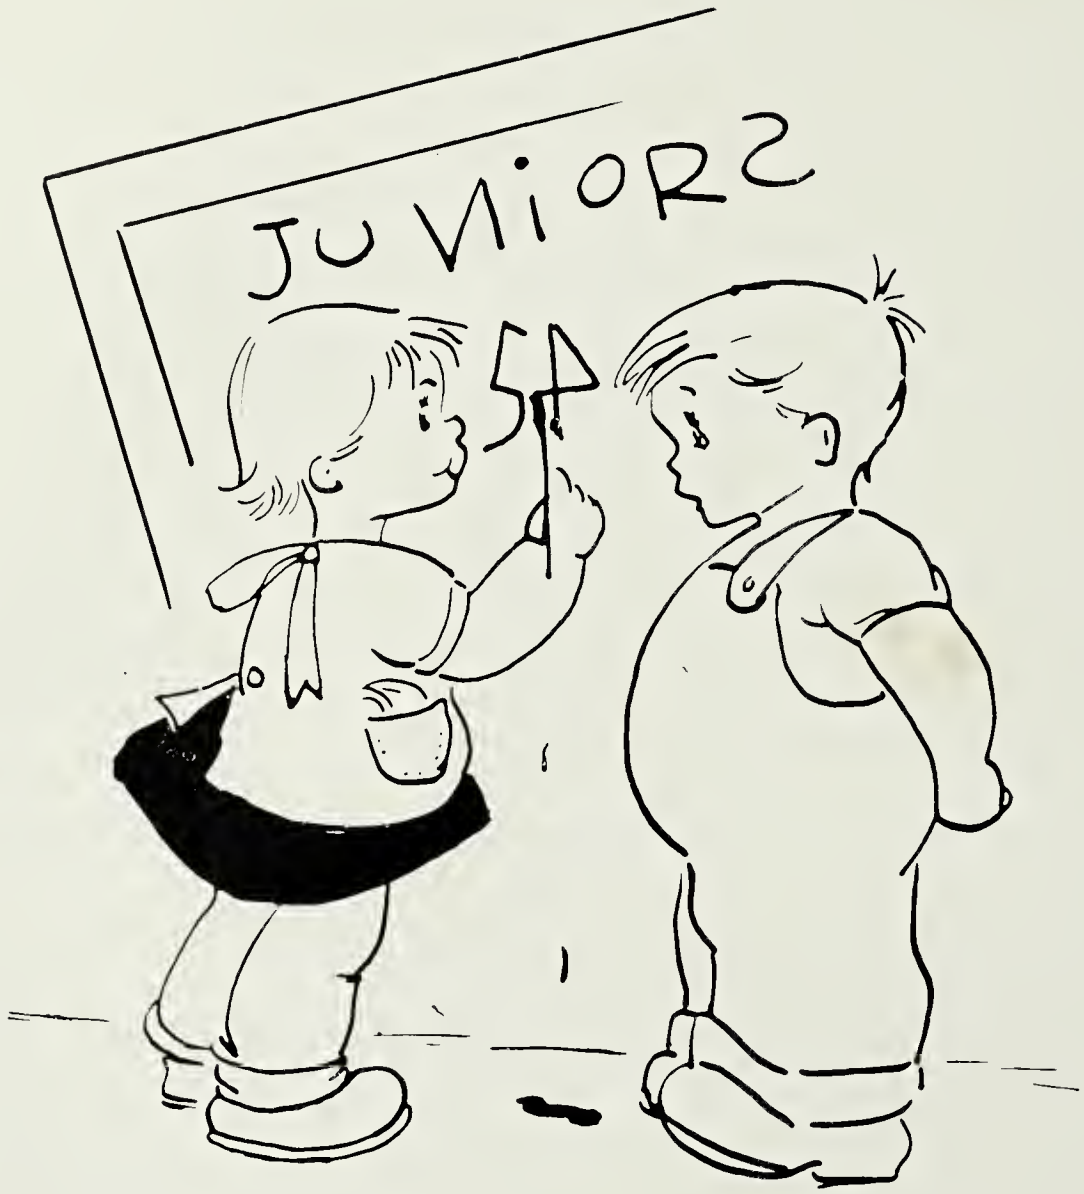
The two Allen girls, Abigail and Sadie, have also done well in life. Abigail is now a practicing nurse and Sadie is a typist.

Shirley Poulson and Nancy Smith are running a restaurant on the 1400 block of Kerr Street.

Emma Nock has received several degrees and is presently a principal of a Junior High School in New York City.

So, Mr. Hoppes, you can see how our senior class has changed. Oh! By the way, Danny Shrieves, after graduating from one of the many colleges where he was accepted, is hosting the T.V. show, "How to Shoot the Bull and Still Get A's." Did you know I became head fashion buyer for a large Paris clothing industry? I never gave up hope that I'd get back to Europe.

With fondest regards,
Donna Smith and Danny Shrieves



To The Seniors of '71

The Juniors of '71 wish to extend to you our heartiest congratulations on your making it this far. We sincerely hope that in life beyond Onancock High you will always strive for the highest star. May good fortune, but most of all happiness, follow you all the days of your lives.

We, the Freshman Class of 1970-71 entered Onancock High with the awesome challenge of making a single society out of a dual one. We accepted the challenge and we will accomplish our task.

The abilities and potentials of the class are vast. The determination of beginners and our desire to make the first year count is our beginning point. These beginnings will accomplish any task and overcome any challenge.

One of our goals for this year is to bring about a fellowship among us. Without conciliation from both sides our attempts are meaningless. They would be similar to blundering in the dark and searching for something that is not there. Thus, the feeling of being together is a necessity.

We hope to end our year with success and good feeling among us.

New faces come into our lives daily.
Perhaps they only pass by quickly,
On a busy street or in a busy hallway.
Perhaps they stay a little longer
To share a few moments of conversation.

It's hard to say what criteria we use
To judge new faces.
Hard to say why we pick one face out
Of a crowd, but we do judge.
We all ask silent questions of new faces
When answers come, Unknowingly,
We reach out or turn away
A new face becomes a friend
Or remains only an acquaintance.

Each club has characteristics of its own,
A face of its own,
But in that face are many faces . . .

The leaders and the listeners,
The organizers and the organized,
The forgotten drop-out, and
The once-in-a-while drop-ins.

There is a special kind of relationship,
Apart from all the rest,
Which in its honesty, Draws us near,
And makes that one so much more
Than just a face in the crowd.

Many, many months of hard work and frustrating hours contributed to this year's TRIDENT. The staff worked on their spare time, after school, and on weekends to meet the deadlines.

TRIDENT STAFF

The purpose of the Tri-Hi-Y is to create, maintain and extend throughout home, school, and community high standards of Christian character.

We had the honor to have the Eastern Shore District Conference at Onancock this fall. Elected O.H.S. representatives attended model General Assembly in Richmond in the spring, also.

Tri-Hi-Y Officers
And Sponsor

TRI HI Y OF 1971

Mr. Mapp, Marvin Bagwell, Jeffery McCoy, George Strand, Hollie Scott, Scotty Scott, Jimmy Belote, Mallory Davis.

HI-Y CLUB OFFICERS AND SPONSORS OF 1971

The first Onancock Hi-Y was formed, with the help of Rev. Mapp, during 1970-71 school year. Working along with the Tri-Hi-Y, the Hi-Y formed a fellowship of active O.H.S. boys committed to a Christian purpose. Hopefully, this year will be a strong beginning for an influential and everlasting Hi-Y club and O.H.S.

HI-Y CLUB OF 1971

The purpose of the Beta Club is to recognize and promote qualities of good character, scholarship, leadership, and service throughout the entire student body.

Membership is based on scholastic achievement as well as commendable attitude.

No one realizes how many tiring hours the cheerleaders spend practicing each day. Much money, time, and effort is contributed toward making our float the best ever! With aching legs, ankles, and knees they strive to unite the students into one huge cheer.

It's not easy!
